Unitarians in Edinburgh, St Mark's Unitarian Church – our values and vision.

Ours is a community of spiritual explorers - each of us on our own unique journey.

We value community, integrity, joy, kindness, learning, and peace. In endeavouring to live our values, we seek to create a world where everyone feels respected, cherished, and loved.

The basis of our community:

We support the principles of freedom, progress and tolerance in religion.

We acknowledge the respect of self and love for others as taught and practised by Jesus together with the insights of other faiths and what is good and true in human experience.

We cherish the whole creation and respect the interdependence of the earth's community.

We seek to make religion relevant to life through public worship, inquiry and service to the community.

We encourage individuals in their personal and spiritual growth and respect their freedom to believe according to reason and conscience.
